The History of the Allegheny River Valley Trail

Though many people had envisioned a recreational path being constructed along the Allegheny River over the years, it had remained just that--a vision.

However, in 1992 Joseph Higgins, an Olean businessman, set his sights on making it a reality. Mr. Higgins organized an effort to have the Allegheny River Valley Trail constructed, and he found a consensus of support.

The Town of Allegany is the official sponsor for the project. An intermunicipal agreement was prepared between the Town of Allegany, the City of Olean, and St. Bonaventure University. Greater Olean Inc. is the facilitator, and Mr. Higgins is the Trail Committee Chairman.
